Exam Ready: End-of-Term 1

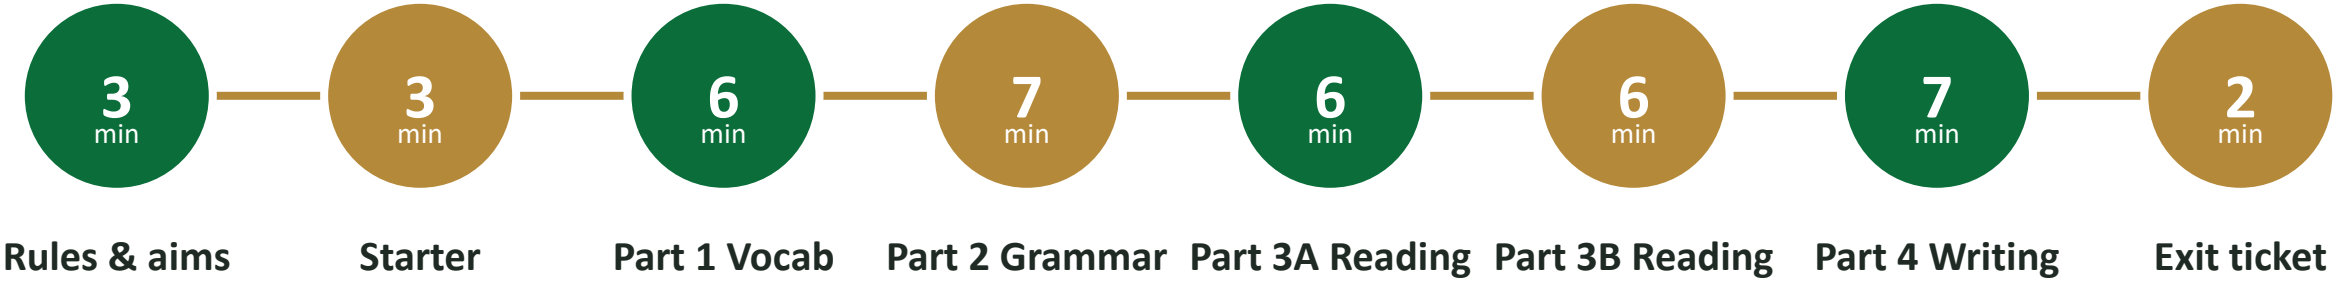

Grade 12 Advanced · Stage 9 · CEFR B2.2

Reading & Viewing and Writing & Representing · 40-minute revision lesson

Academic Year 2026–2027

Our 40 Minutes

WELCOME · 1 MIN

Every part follows the same pattern: learn the spec → try a mini exam task → notebook activity → on-screen activity → HOTS question.

The Exam at a Glance

OVERVIEW · 1 MIN

60 marks · Reading

40

marks · Writing

Part 1 · Vocabulary

1 text (~180 words), 5 gaps, A/B/C

5 × 2 = 10

Part 2 · Grammar

1 expository text (~180 words), 5 gaps, A/B/C

5 × 2 = 10

Part 3A · Reading

Argumentative text, 330–350 words, 8 questions

8 × 3 = 24

Part 3B · Reading

Expository text (C1.1), 330–350 words, 8 questions

8 × 2 = 16

Part 4 · Writing

1.1 summary (15) + 1.2 comparative essay, 220+ words (25)

15 + 25 = 40

Starter: Think – Pair – Share

STARTER · 3 MIN

Does the place where you grow up – a megacity or a small town – shape your personality? Or is personality mostly heritable?

THINK · 1 min

Notebook: write 2–3 sentences. Use at least TWO spec words, e.g. heritable, significant, consequence, urbanisation, megacity.

PAIR · 1 min

Compare with a partner. Find one idea you agree on and one you disagree on.

SHARE · 1 min

Two pairs share with the class. Which answer gave the best reason?

Part 1: Vocabulary – What to Expect

PART 1 · 6 MIN

The task

- Multiple-choice gap fill
- 1 text of about 180 words
- 5 gaps · 3 options (A, B, C)
- 2 marks each = 10 marks
- Level: Towards Grade Level Goal
- Themes: Pushing Boundaries & Rise to the Challenge!

How to answer: 5 smart steps

1. Skim first: Read the whole text quickly for the main message before looking at gaps.
2. Read around the gap: Look at the words BEFORE and AFTER – the clue is often in the next sentence.
3. Name the word class: Do you need a noun, adjective or verb? (e.g. a/an/the → noun)
4. Predict: Think of your own word before reading A, B and C.
5. Test & reread: Put each option in the gap and reread the full sentence.

Part 1: Your Vocabulary Bank

PART 1 · VOCAB

PUSHING BOUNDARIES

privacy
keeping personal information to yourself

freedom
the right to choose and act

automation machines doing work without people

cost-effective good value for the money spent interruptions things that stop what you are doing distractions things that pull your attention away

voyage
a long journey, by sea or in space destination

the place you are travelling to

heritable
passed from parents to children significant important or large enough to notice

consequence
the result of an action

database
an organised store of digital information

RISE TO THE CHALLENGE!

megacity
a city of 10+ million people

urbanisation
people moving from villages to cities

congestion
too much traffic or crowding

pollution
harmful substances in air, water, land

infrastructure
roads, power, water, transport systems

innovative new, creative and original kinaesthetic learning by moving and doing

auditory
connected with hearing

insulation
material that keeps heat in or out drainage

a system that carries water away

biodiversity
the variety of living things

vegetation
plants growing in an area

Part 1: Notebook Activity

PART 1 · NOTEBOOK

BEFORE · NOTEBOOK

Word Map Sort

You need: notebook, pen, the Vocabulary Bank slide

Step 1 (1 min) Draw 3 big circles in your notebook. Label them with the 3 headings on the right.

Step 2 (2 min) Write each of the 24 spec words in the correct circle.

Step 3 (1 min) Choose 3 words. Write another form of each word.

Your 3 circles

People & Learning

Technology

City & Environment

Example answer: City & Environment: megacity, pollution, drainage … | Word form: urbanisation → urbanise (verb)

Part 1: Mini Exam Practice

PART 1 · TRY IT

Choose the correct word: A, B or C

Every year, millions of people move to a (1) _____ such as Cairo or Tokyo, hoping for a better life. However, rapid (2) _____ brings serious problems. Roads suffer from heavy (3) _____, and old (4) _____ such as bridges and water pipes cannot cope with so many people. Air (5) _____ is rising, and green spaces full of (6) _____ are disappearing. To solve these problems, many cities are testing (7) _____ ideas, such as smart traffic lights and rooftop gardens. At home, however, our phones bring constant (8) _____, which make it difficult to focus at work or at school.

Gap	A	B	C
1	megacity	destination	database
2	automation	urbanisation	insulation
3	congestion	vegetation	freedom
4	biodiversity	infrastructure	consequence
5	privacy	drainage	pollution
6	heritable	vegetation	voyage
7	auditory	innovative	kinaesthetic
8	voyages	drainage	distractions

Show your answer! Write all 8 answers in your notebook, then show 1, 2 or 3 fingers for A, B or C.

Part 1: On-Screen Activity

PART 1 · ON-SCREEN

AFTER · ON-SCREEN

Odd One Out

You need: mini-whiteboard or notebook

Step 1 (30 sec) Read the 4 words on the right.

Step 2 (30 sec) Write the odd one out on your whiteboard.

Step 3 Hold it up when the teacher says "Show me!"

Step 4 (1 min) Explain your reason in ONE sentence.

Step 5 (Homework) Make your own Word Slide. Use the models at the end of this presentation.

Which word is the odd one out?

More than one answer can be right – your reason is what matters!

drainage insulation vegetation privacy

Example answer: "Privacy is the odd one out because the other three words are about buildings and nature."

Part 1: HOTS Questions

PART 1 · HOTS

HIGHER-ORDER THINKING

Think Deeper

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Choose ONE question.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 3–4 sentences: your answer + TWO reasons.

Step 3 Use at least 2 spec words.

Step 4 (1 min) Share with a partner. Did they give strong reasons?

Choose one question

1. Is automation a gift of freedom or a threat to privacy? Justify using two spec words.
2. Which matters more for a city's future: innovative infrastructure or biodiversity? Why?
3. Are kinaesthetic and auditory learners helped or harmed by digital distractions?

Example answer: "Automation gives us freedom because machines do boring jobs for us. However, it can threaten our privacy because smart devices store our data in a database."

Part 2: Grammar – My Roof Is Alive!

PART 2 · 7 MIN

The task

- 1 expository text (~180 words)
- 5 gaps · A, B or C
- 2 marks each = 10
- At Grade Level Goal

Topic words

living roof · rooftop · vegetation · insulation · drainage · absorb · urban heat · biodiversity · habitat · sustainable

Code	Grammar point	Form	Example (living roofs)
G.5.1	Zero conditional	If + present, present	If it rains, the soil absorbs the water.
G.1.2	Comparatives	-er / more … than	Green roofs are cooler than metal roofs.
G.2.9	Adverbs of quantity	a lot, a little, enough, too	Living roofs reduce urban heat a lot.
G.10.1	Present simple passive	am/is/are + past participle	Rainwater is absorbed by the plants.
G.17.4	Indirect questions	Could you tell me how/if … + S + V	Could you tell me how a living roof works?
G.2.5	Adverbial linkers	however, therefore, moreover	It is expensive. However, it saves energy.
G.2.2	Sequencing adverbs	first, next, then, finally	First, the roof is sealed. Then, soil is added.

Part 2: Notebook Activity

PART 2 · NOTEBOOK

BEFORE · NOTEBOOK

Grammar Detective

You need: notebook, pen, the grammar table slide

Step 1 (3 min) Write 7 sentences about living roofs – one for each grammar point on the right.

Step 2 Use at least 4 topic words: absorb, habitat, urban heat, sustainable …

Step 3 (1 min) Underline the grammar in each sentence.

The 7 grammar points

1. Zero conditional
2. Comparatives
3. Adverbs of quantity
4. Present simple passive
5. Indirect questions
6. Adverbial linkers
7. Sequencing adverbs

Example answer: Passive: “Rainwater is absorbed by the plants.” Zero conditional: “If the sun shines, the roof stays cool.”

Part 2: Mini Exam Practice

PART 2 · TRY IT

Read and choose A, B or C

A living roof is a rooftop covered with vegetation. (1) _____, a waterproof layer is placed on the roof. Then, lightweight soil and small plants (2) _____. If it rains, the plants (3) _____ the water, so drainage pipes do not overflow. Living roofs are also (4) _____ than normal roofs at keeping buildings cool, and on hot days they reduce urban heat (5) _____. (6) _____, they create a habitat for birds and insects, which improves biodiversity. Many visitors ask how (7) _____. They also want to know if living roofs (8) _____ a lot of water to stay green and sustainable.

Gap	A	B	C
1	However	First	Therefore
2	add	are adding	are added
3	absorb	absorbed	will absorbed
4	most effective	more effective	effectiver
5	many	a lot of	a lot
6	In addition	However	Unless
7	does a living roof work	a living roof works	works a living roof
8	need	do they need	are they need

Name the grammar! Write each answer AND the grammar point it tests (e.g. "comparative").

Part 2: On-Screen Activity

PART 2 · ON-SCREEN

AFTER · ON-SCREEN

Fix the Mistake

You need: mini-whiteboard or notebook, a partner

Step 1 (2 min) With a partner, find the mistake in each sentence.

Step 2 Write the correct sentence.

Step 3 Name the grammar point it tests.

Step 4 Show your answers when the teacher says “Show me!”

Each sentence has ONE mistake

1. If it rains, the soil absorbed water.
2. Green roofs are more cheaper than solar panels.
3. Can you tell me how does a living roof work?
4. Then, the soil add to the rooftop.

Example answer: “Living roofs reduces urban heat.” → “Living roofs reduce urban heat.” (subject–verb agreement)

Part 2: HOTS Questions

PART 2 · HOTS

HIGHER-ORDER THINKING

Think Deeper

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Choose ONE question.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 3–4 sentences: your answer + TWO reasons.

Step 3 Use at least 2 spec words.

Step 4 (1 min) Share with a partner. Did they give strong reasons?

Choose one question

1. Why do expository texts often use the passive voice?
2. Create a zero-conditional ‘rule’ for a sustainable school.
3. Should every new building in the UAE have a living roof? Give two reasons using comparatives.

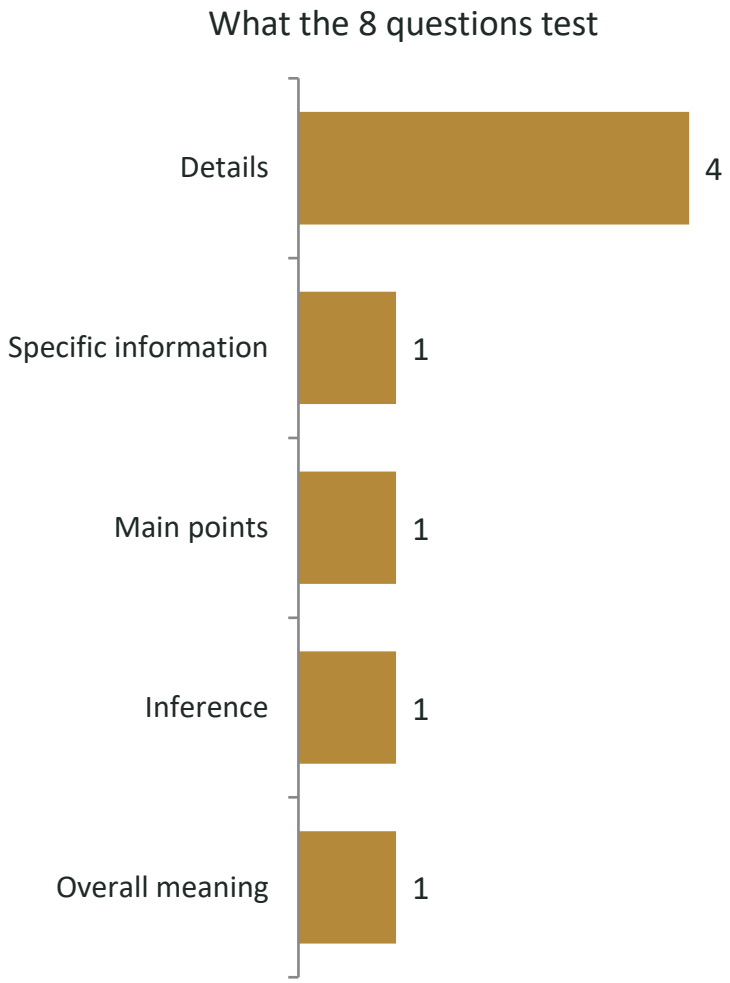

Example answer: “Expository texts use the passive because the process is more important than the person. ‘The soil is added’ sounds more factual than ‘Workers add the soil’.”

Part 3A: Reading – Nature or Nurture?

PART 3A · 6 MIN

The task

- 1 argumentative text (B2.2)
- 330–350 words
- 8 multiple-choice questions, A/B/C
- 3 marks each = 24 marks
- At Grade Level Goal
- Theme: Pushing Boundaries – Personality: Nature or Nurture?

Spot the argument

- Claim – the writer's opinion
- Evidence – studies, facts, examples
- Counter-argument – "Some people argue…"
- Rebuttal – "However…"
- Conclusion – the final position
- Read questions first, then scan for key words.

Part 3A: Read the Text

PART 3A · READ

Your task: read the whole text carefully (3 min). Do not answer questions yet – first do the reading activity on the next slide.

Personality: Nature or Nurture?

Some scientists argue that personality is largely heritable. Studies of identical twins raised in different homes show that they often share similar levels of confidence, curiosity and even shyness. For these researchers, our genes are the most significant influence on who we are.

However, this does not mean that our genes decide everything. The way we are raised, the friends we choose and the challenges we face all have a powerful effect on our character. A naturally shy child who is encouraged to join a drama club, for example, may grow into a confident adult.

In my view, nature gives us the starting point, but nurture decides the destination. We should therefore be careful about blaming our genes for every consequence of our behaviour. After all, we always have some freedom to change.

Part 3A: Notebook Activity

PART 3A · NOTEBOOK

BEFORE · NOTEBOOK

Paragraph Summary

You need: notebook, pen, the text on this slide

Step 1 (2 min) Read the text on this slide again. For each paragraph, write ONE short sentence (8 words or fewer) that gives its main idea.

Step 2 Circle the paragraph where the writer gives their own opinion.

Step 3 (1 min) Compare with a partner. Do you agree?

Personality: Nature or Nurture?

Some scientists argue that personality is largely heritable. Studies of identical twins raised in different homes show that they often share similar levels of confidence, curiosity and even shyness. For these researchers, our genes are the most significant influence on who we are.

However, this does not mean that our genes decide everything. The way we are raised, the friends we choose and the challenges we face all have a powerful effect on our character. A naturally shy child who is encouraged to join a drama club, for example, may grow into a confident adult.

In my view, nature gives us the starting point, but nurture decides the destination. We should therefore be careful about blaming our genes for every consequence of our behaviour. After all, we always have some freedom to change.

In your notebook

Paragraph 1: _____

Paragraph 2: _____

Paragraph 3: _____

Example: Paragraph 1: “Some scientists say personality comes from our genes.”

Part 3A: Answer the Questions

PART 3A · QUESTIONS

Personality: Nature or Nurture?

Some scientists argue that personality is largely heritable. Studies of identical twins raised in different homes show that they often share similar levels of confidence, curiosity and even shyness. For these researchers, our genes are the most significant influence on who we are.

However, this does not mean that our genes decide everything. The way we are raised, the friends we choose and the challenges we face all have a powerful effect on our character. A naturally shy child who is encouraged to join a drama club, for example, may grow into a confident adult.

In my view, nature gives us the starting point, but nurture decides the destination. We should therefore be careful about blaming our genes for every consequence of our behaviour. After all, we always have some freedom to change.

1. Twins raised apart often… (Details)

A share similar personality traits.
B choose the same friends.
C become shy adults.

2. Which example does the writer give? (Specific info)

A a twin who becomes a scientist
B a shy child who joins a drama club
C a family that moves abroad

3. The main point of paragraph 2 is… (Main points)

A genes control everything we do.
B our experiences also shape our character.
C drama clubs are only for confident children.

4. "Nature gives us the starting point" suggests… (Inference)

A genes have no effect at all.
B genes influence us but do not fix our future.
C our upbringing is unimportant.

5. The writer's overall argument is that… (Overall)

A personality is completely heritable.
B twin studies are unreliable.
C both matter, but nurture shapes the result.

Part 3A: On-Screen Activity

PART 3A · ON-SCREEN

AFTER · ON-SCREEN

True / False / Not Given

You need: notebook, the text on this slide

Step 1 (3 min) Read each statement in the box on the right.

Step 2 Write T, F or NG next to each number.

Step 3 Underline the words in the text (middle of this slide) that prove your answer.

Step 4 Next slide: complete the Argument Map together.

Personality: Nature or Nurture?

Some scientists argue that personality is largely heritable. Studies of identical twins raised in different homes show that they often share similar levels of confidence, curiosity and even shyness. For these researchers, our genes are the most significant influence on who we are.

However, this does not mean that our genes decide everything. The way we are raised, the friends we choose and the challenges we face all have a powerful effect on our character. A naturally shy child who is encouraged to join a drama club, for example, may grow into a confident adult.

In my view, nature gives us the starting point, but nurture decides the destination. We should therefore be careful about blaming our genes for every consequence of our behaviour. After all, we always have some freedom to change.

Statements

T = the text says it · F = it says the opposite · NG = not in the text

1. Identical twins raised apart often share some personality traits.
2. The writer believes genes decide everything about us.
3. Most twins in the studies were born in Europe.
4. A shy child can grow into a confident adult.
5. Drama clubs are the best way to change your personality.

Example: “Twin researchers think genes are the most important influence.” → TRUE: “our genes are the most significant influence”.

Part 3A: Argument Map

PART 3A · FILL IN

Fill in together: students answer each question; the teacher types the answers into the boxes. Copy the map into your notebook.

1. Claim	2. Evidence	3. Counter-argument	4. Example	5. Conclusion
What do some scientists argue?	What proof do they give?	What does the writer say after "However"?	Which example supports this?	What is the writer's final view?

Part 3A: HOTS Questions

PART 3A · HOTS

HIGHER-ORDER THINKING

Think Deeper

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Choose ONE question.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 3–4 sentences: your answer + TWO reasons.

Step 3 Use at least 2 spec words.

Step 4 (1 min) Share with a partner. Did they give strong reasons?

Choose one question about "Personality: Nature or Nurture?"

1. Which evidence in the Part 3A text is strongest? Which is weakest? Why?
2. How might the writer's argument change if the writer were a geneticist?
3. If personality is heritable, are we fully responsible for the consequence of our actions?

Example answer: "The twin studies are the strongest evidence because they are scientific. The drama-club example is weaker because it describes only one imaginary child."

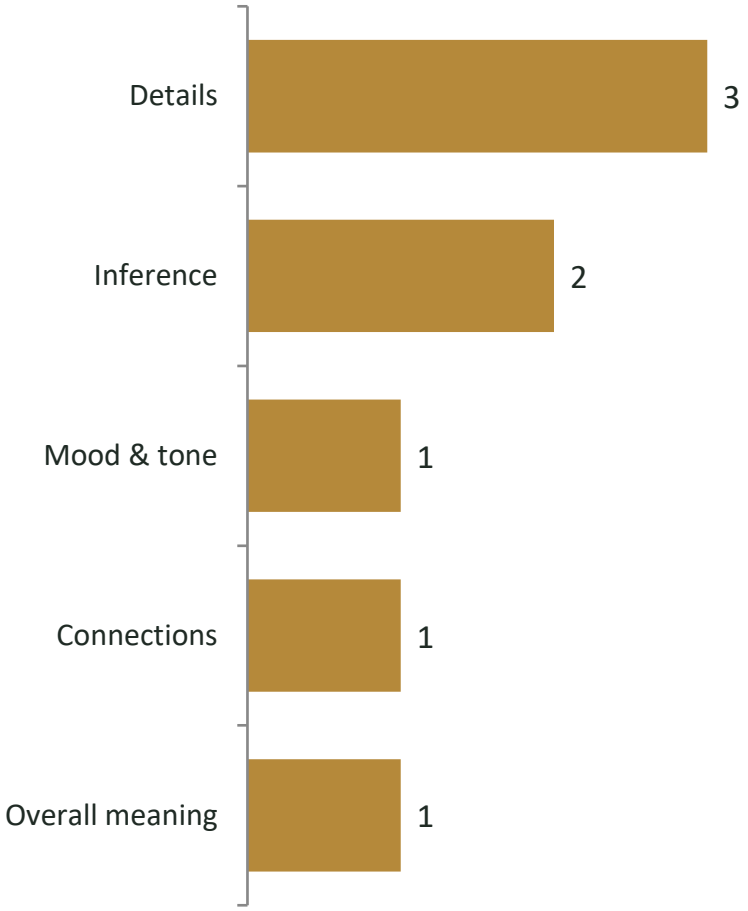

Part 3B: Reading – Megacities & Small Towns

PART 3B · 6 MIN

The task

- 1 expository text (C1.1 – harder!)
- 330–350 words
- 8 multiple-choice questions, A/B/C
- 2 marks each = 16 marks
- Beyond Grade Level Goal
- Theme: Rise to the Challenge! – Megacities and Small Towns

What the 8 questions test

Tone word bank

optimistic	critical
cautious	neutral
concerned	enthusiastic
sceptical	balanced

Tone clues: adjectives (steep, vast), adverbs (quietly), and contrast words (yet, meanwhile).

Part 3B: Read the Text

PART 3B · READ

Your task: read the whole text carefully (3 min). Do not answer questions yet – first do the reading activity on the next slide.

The Price of Growth

For many people, the megacity represents opportunity: innovative industries, modern infrastructure and an endless cultural life. It is easy to see why urbanisation has continued at such speed.

Yet the price of growth is steep. Congestion adds hours to daily journeys, and pollution has become a quiet but persistent threat to public health. As cities expand, vegetation is replaced by concrete, and biodiversity suffers.

Meanwhile, small towns, long dismissed as places where nothing happens, are attracting remote workers who value clean air, green space and community over convenience. Some towns now offer fast internet and shared offices to welcome them.

The question, then, is no longer which is better, but which kind of life we truly want.

Part 3B: Notebook Activity

PART 3B · NOTEBOOK

BEFORE · NOTEBOOK

Tone Hunt

You need: notebook, pen, the text on this slide

Step 1 (1 min) Read the text on this slide. Find 4 strong describing words.

Step 2 Label each one: positive (+), negative (–) or neutral (=).

Step 3 (1 min) Complete the sentence in the box on the right.

The Price of Growth

For many people, the megacity represents opportunity: innovative industries, modern infrastructure and an endless cultural life. It is easy to see why urbanisation has continued at such speed.

Yet the price of growth is steep. Congestion adds hours to daily journeys, and pollution has become a quiet but persistent threat to public health. As cities expand, vegetation is replaced by concrete, and biodiversity suffers.

Meanwhile, small towns, long dismissed as places where nothing happens, are attracting remote workers who value clean air, green space and community over convenience. Some towns now offer fast internet and shared offices to welcome them.

The question, then, is no longer which is better, but which kind of life we truly want.

Complete this sentence

The writer's tone is _____ because _____.

Tone bank:
optimistic · critical · cautious · balanced · concerned · sceptical

Example: steep (–), innovative (+), persistent (–) → "The writer's tone is cautious because they describe both the benefits and the serious problems of megacities."

Part 3B: Answer the Questions

PART 3B · QUESTIONS

The Price of Growth

For many people, the megacity represents opportunity: innovative industries, modern infrastructure and an endless cultural life. It is easy to see why urbanisation has continued at such speed.

Yet the price of growth is steep. Congestion adds hours to daily journeys, and pollution has become a quiet but persistent threat to public health. As cities expand, vegetation is replaced by concrete, and biodiversity suffers.

Meanwhile, small towns, long dismissed as places where nothing happens, are attracting remote workers who value clean air, green space and community over convenience. Some towns now offer fast internet and shared offices to welcome them.

The question, then, is no longer which is better, but which kind of life we truly want.

1. As cities expand, vegetation… (Details)

A increases quickly.
B is replaced by concrete.
C is protected by law.

2. Some small towns welcome remote workers with… (Details)

A fast internet and shared offices.
B cheaper cars and parking.
C larger shopping malls.

3. The writer's tone towards megacities is… (Tone)

A entirely enthusiastic.
B balanced but cautious.
C angry and hostile.

4. "Long dismissed" suggests small towns… (Inference)

A were underestimated in the past.
B have always been popular.
C are losing their population.

5. The final paragraphs connect most to… (Connections)

A more car factories in cities.
B less use of the internet.
C the growth of working from home.

Part 3B: On-Screen Activity

PART 3B · ON-SCREEN

AFTER · ON-SCREEN

Megacity vs Small Town

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Think of one advantage of a megacity and one advantage of a small town.

Step 2 Raise your hand to share. The teacher types your ideas into the table on the next slide.

Step 3 Use the spec words on the right.

Step 4 Copy the finished table into your notebook – use it in your essay!

Spec words to use

- congestion
- pollution
- infrastructure
- innovative
- vegetation

Example answer: "A megacity has modern infrastructure, whereas a small town has less congestion and more vegetation."

Part 3B: Megacity vs Small Town

PART 3B · FILL IN

Fill in together: students share ideas; the teacher types them into the table. Copy it into your notebook for your essay.

Topic	Megacity	Small town
Transport
Environment
Jobs & opportunity
Community & lifestyle

Word bank: congestion · pollution · infrastructure · innovative · vegetation · biodiversity · urbanisation · megacity

Part 3B: HOTS Questions

PART 3B · HOTS

HIGHER-ORDER THINKING

Think Deeper

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Choose ONE question.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 3–4 sentences: your answer + TWO reasons.

Step 3 Use at least 2 spec words.

Step 4 (1 min) Share with a partner. Did they give strong reasons?

Choose one question about "The Price of Growth"

1. Is it fair to call small towns 'places where nothing happens'? What evidence would change your mind?
2. How could innovative infrastructure solve congestion in a megacity you know?
3. Which would suit a kinaesthetic learner better – a city or a town? Why?

Example answer: "It is not fair, because some small towns now have fast internet and shared offices, so new businesses are starting there."

Part 4: Writing – What to Expect

PART 4 · 7 MIN

IN THE EXAM, THE THEME WILL BE: Smart Homes OR Comparing Places

Today's practice text: “Two points of view: Smart Homes” – see slide 34

Task 1.1 · Summary — 15 marks

- In the exam, you will read a ~200-word text with two different points of view (one per paragraph).
- Compare and contrast the two views.
- Summarise the main ideas in YOUR OWN words.
- Write 4–5 sentences.

Task 1.2 · Comparative Essay — 25 marks

- In the exam, you will write an essay on a similar (not identical) topic.
- Follow THREE prompts: compare the views, say which you agree with and why, support your choice.
- At least 220 words, in paragraphs.

Essay structure (1.2)

Introduction
Topic + both views + your position

›

Body 1
Point of view A with reasons & examples

›

Body 2
Point of view B – compare & contrast

›

Conclusion
Which view you agree with and why

Part 4: Compare & Contrast Toolkit (FL.26)

PART 4 · LANGUAGE

To contrast

- whereas / while
- on the other hand
- in contrast
- unlike …
- however

To compare

- similarly / likewise
- both … and …
- just as …
- in the same way
- compared to …

To sequence & add

- firstly / next / finally
- moreover / in addition
- as a result / therefore
- for example
- in conclusion

1.1 Summary frame

1. The text presents two views on ___.

2. The first view is that ___ because ___.

3. In contrast, the second view argues that ___.

4. While both agree that ___, they disagree about ___.

5. Overall, ___.

Part 4: Read the Text

PART 4 · READ

Your task: read both points of view carefully (3 min). Underline the main idea of each paragraph. Then do the notebook activity on the next slide.

Two points of view: Smart Homes

Supporters say smart homes make daily life easier and safer. Automation controls lights, heating and security cameras, so busy families face fewer interruptions in their day. Because the system switches devices off when no one is home, it saves energy. Although smart devices are expensive at first, supporters believe they are cost-effective in the long run.

Critics, on the other hand, argue that smart homes threaten our privacy and freedom. Devices listen, record and collect personal information, which is then stored in a company database. If this data is hacked or sold, the consequence could be serious. Critics also worry that people may become too dependent on technology to manage simple tasks.

Part 4: Notebook Activity

PART 4 · NOTEBOOK

BEFORE · NOTEBOOK

Essay Planner

You need: notebook, pen, the FL.26 toolkit slide

Step 1 (1 min) Draw 4 boxes in your notebook with the headings on the right.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 2–3 bullet ideas in each box for the megacity vs small town essay.

Step 3 (1 min) Add 3 compare/contrast phrases and 3 spec words you will use.

Your 4 boxes

Intro	Body 1	Body 2	Conclusion

Example answer: Body 1 – Megacity: + jobs, + innovative infrastructure, – congestion, – pollution

Part 4: Mini Exam Practice – Smart Homes

PART 4 · TRY IT

Two points of view

Supporters say smart homes make daily life easier and safer. Automation controls lights, heating and security cameras, so busy families face fewer interruptions in their day. Because the system switches devices off when no one is home, it saves energy. Although smart devices are expensive at first, supporters believe they are cost-effective in the long run.

Critics, on the other hand, argue that smart homes threaten our privacy and freedom. Devices listen, record and collect personal information, which is then stored in a company database. If this data is hacked or sold, the consequence could be serious. Critics also worry that people may become too dependent on technology to manage simple tasks.

Task 1.1 (notebook, 3 min): use the summary frame to write 4–5 sentences in your own words.

Sample Task 1.2

Write an essay about living in a megacity or a small town in which you compare the two ways of life.

- Compare the advantages of each place.
- Explain which you agree with and give reasons.
- Support your choice with examples.

Write at least 220 words in paragraphs.

Today: plan only – homework: write it!

Part 4: On-Screen Activity

PART 4 · ON-SCREEN

AFTER · ON-SCREEN

Rate the Summary

You need: notebook, the summary frame slide

Step 1 (1 min) Read the student summary on the right.

Step 2 Rate it from 1 to 5. Show your score with your fingers.

Step 3 (2 min) Find what is wrong. Rewrite ONE sentence in your own words.

Step 4 Next slide: plan the essay together.

A student's Task 1.1 summary

"Supporters say smart homes make daily life easier and safer. Critics, on the other hand, argue that smart homes threaten our privacy and freedom. If this data is hacked or sold, the consequence could be serious."

Example answer: Copied: "Critics argue that smart homes threaten our privacy." → Own words: "Other people worry that smart homes put personal information at risk."

Part 4: Essay Plan – Megacity or Small Town?

PART 4 · FILL IN

Fill in together: complete each box together, then copy the plan. Homework: write the full essay (220+ words).

Introduction

Nowadays, more and more people …
Some prefer …, whereas others …

Body 1 – Megacity

On the one hand, megacities offer …
For example, …

Body 2 – Small town

On the other hand, small towns …
In contrast, …

Conclusion

In conclusion, I believe … because …
Overall, …

Linking words I will use: _____ Spec words I will use: _____

Part 4: HOTS Questions

PART 4 · HOTS

HIGHER-ORDER THINKING

Think Deeper

You need: notebook, pen

Step 1 (1 min) Choose ONE question.

Step 2 (2 min) Write 3–4 sentences: your answer + TWO reasons.

Step 3 Use at least 2 spec words.

Step 4 (1 min) Share with a partner. Did they give strong reasons?

Choose one question about the Smart Homes text

1. Which view on smart homes is more convincing? What would make the other view stronger?
2. Is privacy worth losing for freedom from daily chores? Justify.
3. How would your essay change if you wrote it for city planners instead of your teacher?

Example answer: "The privacy view is more convincing because personal data can be stolen. The other view would be stronger with real numbers about energy saved."

Exit Ticket: 3 – 2 – 1

WRAP-UP · 2 MIN

3 things I know about the exam format

2 spec words I will use in my essay

1 HOTS question I can now answer with reasons

Write it in your notebook and show your teacher at the door.

Exam-day checklist

- Revise all 24 Part 1 words + 10 living-roof words.
- Practise the 7 grammar points.
- Read the questions BEFORE the text.
- Check the tone and the writer's opinion.
- Summaries in your OWN words, 4–5 sentences.
- Essay: 220+ words, 4 paragraphs, linking words.

Word Slides: Models & Template

EXTRA · VOCAB

How to make your Word Slide

1. Choose ONE word from the Part 1 Vocabulary Bank (your teacher may give you a word).
2. Look at the 4 model slides that follow: megacity, privacy, heritable, biodiversity.
3. Copy the blank template slide (the last slide) and fill in every box.
4. Add a picture that shows the meaning of your word.
5. Share your slide – together we will build a class vocabulary presentation!

Word Slide: megacity

MODEL

megacity

noun

meg · a · ci · ty

Meaning

A very large city with more than 10 million people.

Example sentence

Cairo is a megacity where millions of people travel to work every day.

Word family

mega- (very big) + city

Related spec words

urbanisation, congestion, infrastructure

Word Slide: privacy

MODEL

privacy

noun

pri · va · cy

Meaning

The right to keep your personal life and information to yourself.

Example sentence

Smart speakers can be a threat to our privacy because they record what we say.

Word family

private (adj) · privately (adv)

Related spec words

freedom, database, automation

Word Slide: heritable

MODEL

heritable

adjective

her · i · ta · ble

Meaning

Able to be passed from parents to children through genes.

Example sentence

Scientists believe that some personality traits, such as shyness, are heritable.

Word family

inherit (verb) · heredity (noun)

Related spec words

significant, consequence

Word Slide: biodiversity

MODEL

biodiversity

noun

bi · o · di · ver · si · ty

Meaning

The variety of plants and animals living in one place.

Example sentence

Living roofs improve biodiversity by creating a habitat for birds and insects.

Word family

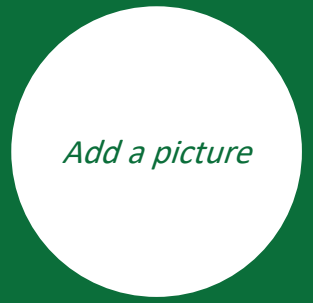

bio- (life) + diversity (variety)

Related spec words

vegetation, habitat, sustainable

Word Slide: Your Turn

TEMPLATE

my word

word class:_____

syllables: _____

Meaning

Example sentence

Word family

Related spec words